* Value Added - enhancement a company or business gives its product or service before providing it to customers (value of the final outputs from Amtrak minus the value of the inputs such as raw materials).

 Local riders are defined as riders that boarded or alighted an Amtrak train in the state. May include out of state passengers transferring trains in the state.

 Rail Passenger Mile - passenger rail miles determined by multiplying the total number of passengers by the total number of miles traveled.
Idaho is served by the Empire Builder train route and the Sandpoint station. Despite having only one station, ridership in Idaho is up an incredible 39 percent over the past six years. This demonstrates a significant demand for the service by the residents and visitors of Idaho. An estimated 55 percent of the population lives within 30 miles of an Amtrak station.

Among Amtrak riders in the state, 14 percent report that they would not have made the trip but for the availability of Amtrak service. The service provides important mobility and access needs for a number of residents. Moreover, the service is used by the full spectrum of income groups across the state’s population.

Amtrak spent over $950,000 on goods and services in Idaho in FY15.
