New Orleans, LA (NOL)

The New Orleans Union Passenger Terminal opened in 1954 to consolidate passenger rail operations from the city's other railroad stations and to reduce the number of dangerous grade crossings throughout the city. The construction was paid for by the railroads themselves. The station contains the famous 2,166 square-foot fresco murals, which depict the history of Louisiana. The station currently serves three routes. In 2016, 183,018 passengers passed through the station and provided revenue valued at $17,733,766.

*Value Added - enhancement a company or business gives its product or service before providing it to customers (value of the final outputs from Amtrak minus the value of the inputs such as raw materials).

Local riders are defined as riders that boarded or alighted an Amtrak train in the state. May include out of state passengers transferring trains in the state.

Rail Passenger Mile - passenger rail miles are determined by multiplying the total number of passengers by the total number of miles traveled.*
Louisiana is served by 3 train routes and 7 stations. The Crescent route offers passengers access to New Orleans. New Orleans is the state’s busiest station. New Orleans is also the location of a maintenance facility, which services and performs light overhauls for Viewliner, and Heritage cars for the Crescent. This facility also performs running/turn around maintenance on all of the long-distance equipment and locomotives serving New Orleans. The City of New Orleans route takes passengers from the Midwest into New Orleans. The Sunset Limited route takes passengers through Lake Charles, Lafayette, and New Orleans, as well as providing rail service to communities like New Iberia and Schriever. Collectively Amtrak employs over 100 workers in the state across rail activities.

55 percent of the population lives within 30 miles of an Amtrak station.

Among Amtrak riders in the state, 13 percent report that they would not have made the trip but for the availability of Amtrak service.

Over 226 Louisiana residents worked for Amtrak and earned over $16 million in FY16. In addition, Amtrak purchased over $1.4 million in goods and services in the Louisiana economy over that same period.
