Population and Amtrak Ridership Growth 2009-2015

Jefferson City, MO (JEF)

The Jefferson City station is located near the Missouri River between the Missouri Statehouse and the Governor's Mansion. Amtrak served the Missouri Pacific depot from 1971 until 1984, then moving to the former Union Hotel, built in 1855. The hotel is a three-story, Federal-style structure. It is entered from the lower level and occupies the building formerly shared with the Missouri Department of Natural Resources. The station currently serves the state-supported Missouri River Runner route. In 2015, 43,720 passengers passed through the station and provided revenue valued at $1,046,815.
