Get your train to the station.

FINISH

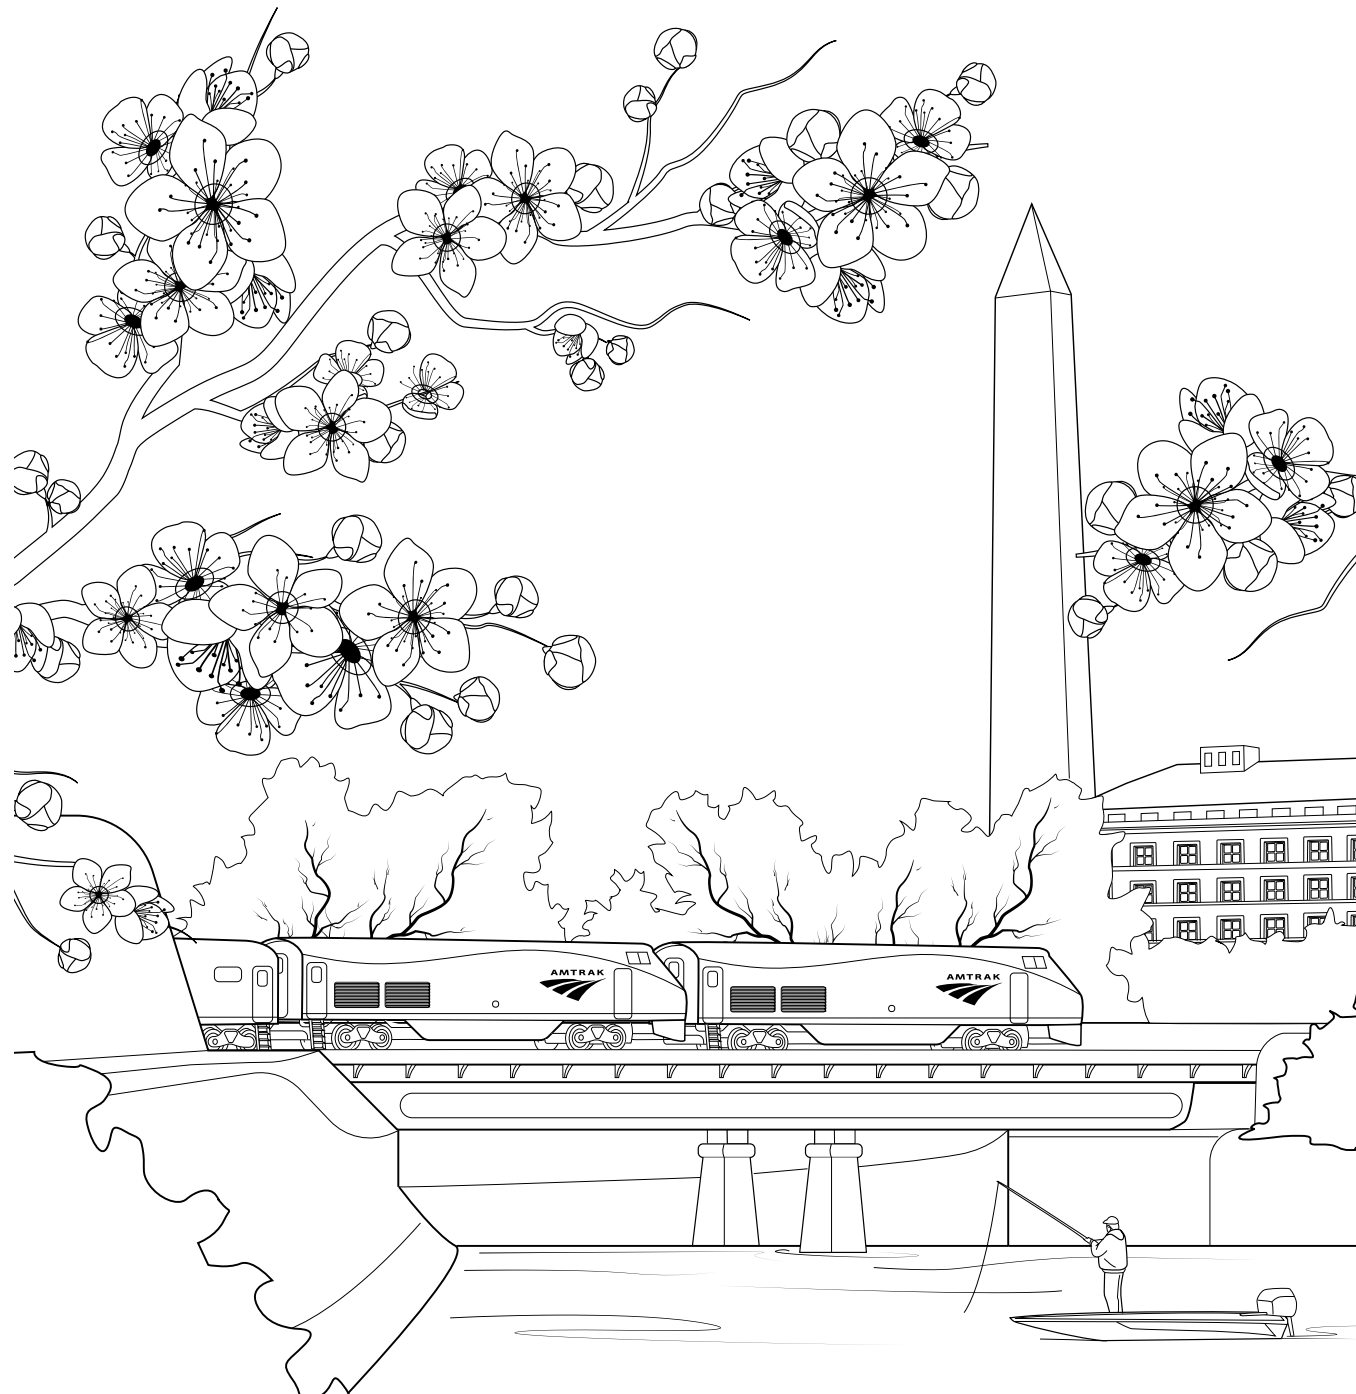

The train station is where your trip starts. Red Caps, like the one here, offer help with your baggage. At some stations you can also connect to other modes of transportation.

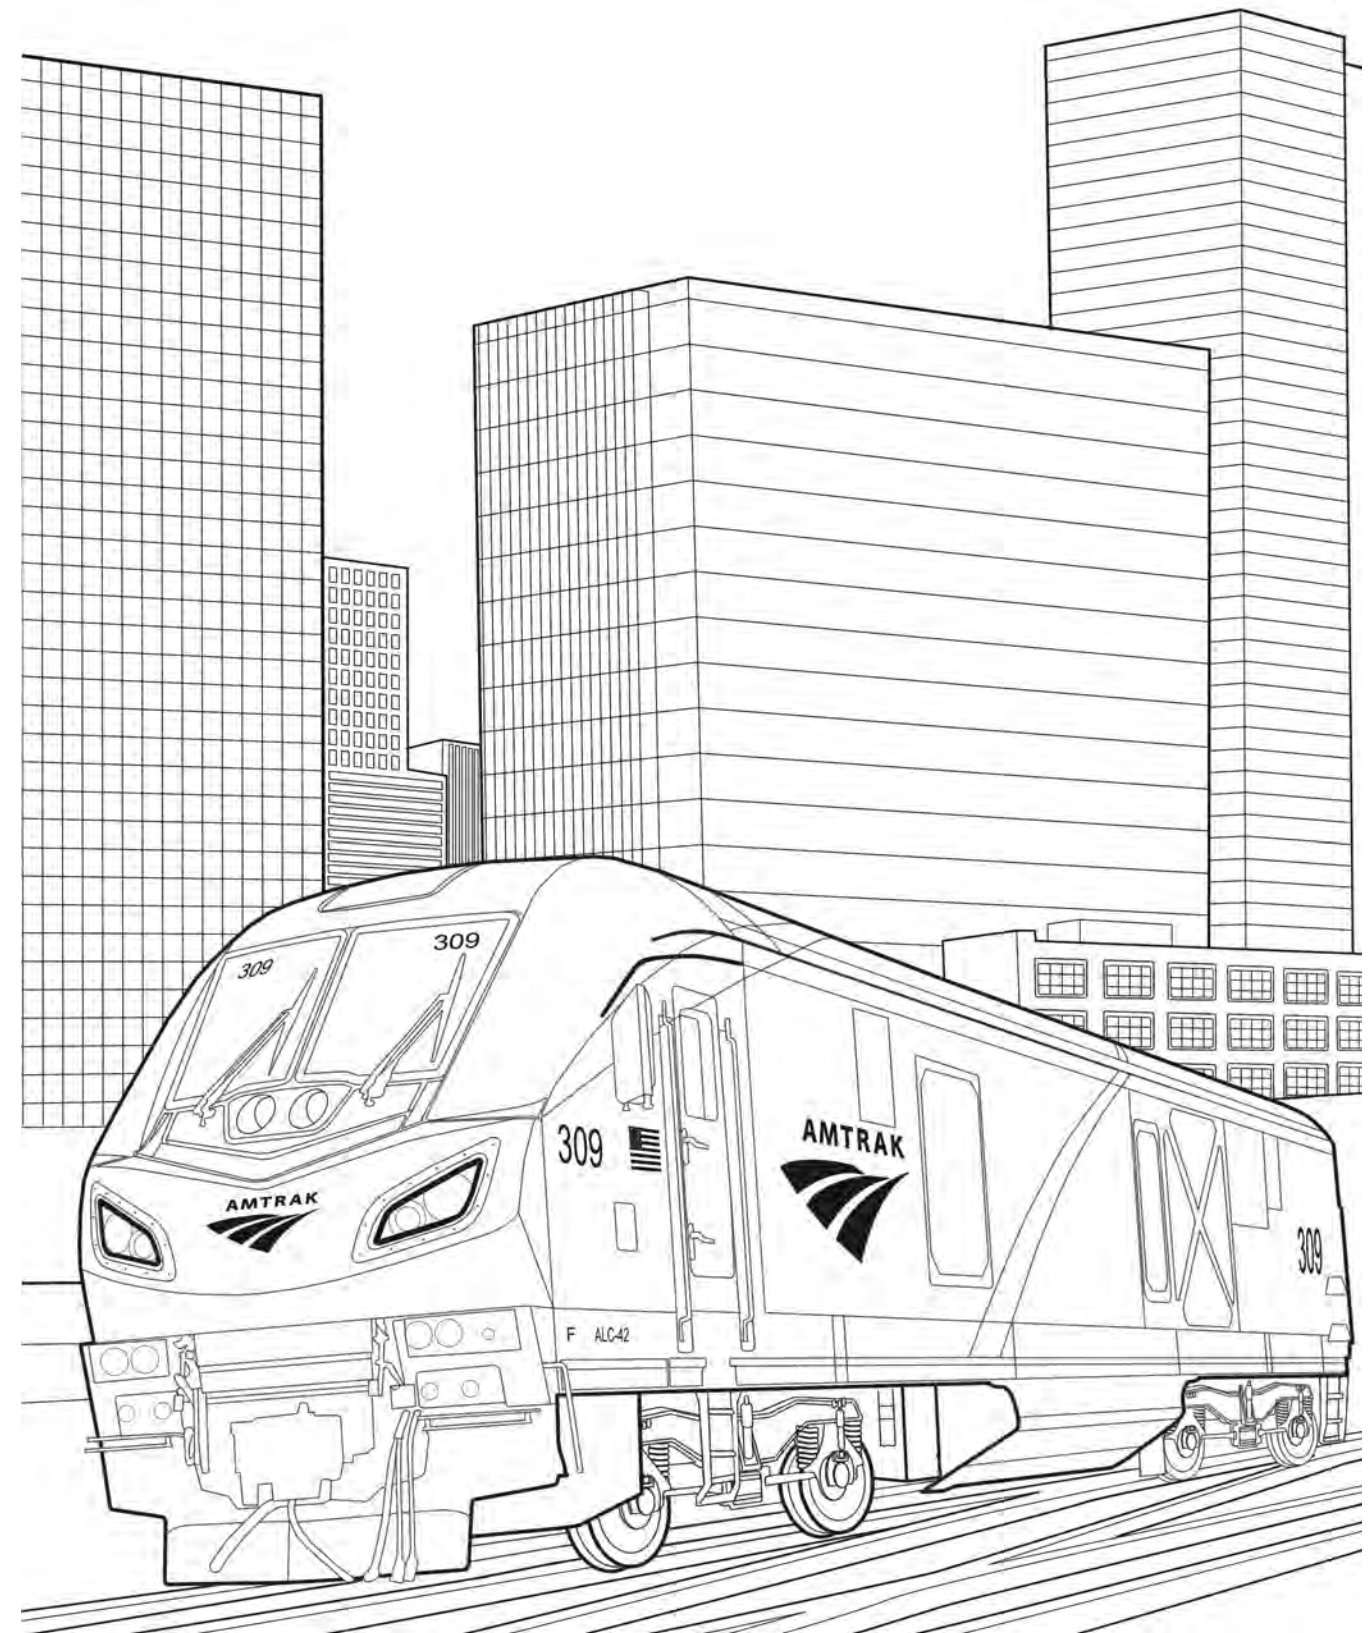

Connect the dots to form the locomotive.

You can take Amtrak to over 500 destinations all over America and even into Canada. The Crescent is a train that travels between New Orleans and New York City.

It passes the Washington Monument and cherry blossoms entering our nation's capital.

Amtrak's new Charger locomotives use less fuel and are more environmentally friendly than the ones they're replacing.

"Tickets, please," says the Conductor. They're in charge of the train and wear a special hat.

Look under the seat. Did you know small dogs and cats can ride on some Amtrak trains?

Are you taking the train to visit family and friends for the holidays? This train has a wreath on the front!

HOMeward BOUND!

Gabby and her crew are headed home to the Dollhouse. Find your way back by drawing a line from start to finish along the track, and look out for the bumper blocks!
